INTRODUCTION

The present volume constitutes the 1925 edition of the San Diego City and County Directory. The work embodies a complete epitome of their civic, commercial, social and industrial interests and activities. It is a modern Directory in all its parts and includes all of the essential features which have been proven so satisfactory to our patrons in previous issues; these have been retained and amplified, and improvements have been added as suggested by experience in order to add to the value and usefulness of the Directory, thus fully meeting the requirements of patrons; the approbation and continued patronage accorded the work are constant incentives to better service.

The publication has had the benefit and advantage of the complete organization of the publishers, and of the skill and experience of their corps of enumerators and compilers added to the courteous co-operation of citizens, in the production of the volume.

The several essential departments of the Directory are set forth in the order following:

THE MISCELLANEOUS DEPARTMENT, pages 13 to 24 includes a variety of miscellaneous information such as city government, state and county officials, cemeteries, churches, clubs, public halls and office buildings, hospitals, libraries, parks, postoffice, schools, secret societies, etc

THE STREET AND AVENUE GUIDE covers pages 39 to 74.

THE BUYERS' GUIDE occupies pages 75 to 198. This section of the Directory, printed on tinted paper, includes hundreds of advertisements of the leading manufacturing, business and professional interests of San Diego. They have been carefully grouped by departments and are indexed under classified headings and otherwise in various parts of the Directory. A casual perusal of these advertisements will picture many interesting phases of the city's activities. They are not display advertisements, primarily, however, but rather are reference advertising at its best. In a bustling, manufacturing city like San Diego, the need for this kind of information readily at hand is very great, and the general appreciation of this need is evidenced by the liberal patronage the City Directory enjoys in many and varied lines of trade.

THE ALPHABETICAL LIST OF NAMES of citizens, business firms and corporations in San Diego, is included in pages 199 to 914. The County section, in which is included all cities and towns in the county except San Diego, are arranged alphabetically on pages 915 to 1102.

THE CLASSIFIED BUSINESS DIRECTORY is embraced in pages 403 to 1245. This Department shows the various manufacturing, mercantile and professional occupations in the city compiled in alphabetical order by headings appropriate to the class of industry pursued. This feature constitutes an invaluable epitome of the business interests of the municipality.

FACTS ABOUT SAN DIEGO

Prepared by Publicity Bureau San Diego-California Club.

During 1924 San Diego passed its most notable milestone, and the remarkable record of progress achieved in that year has carried over into 1925 with a vigor that presages even greater progress in the next few years.

San Diego has started on a definite program of industrial and commercial expansion, which accounts in part for the present solid foundation of business conditions. For months San Diego has been listed as the one "white spot" on the nation's business map.

The outstanding development in San Diego during 1925 is the rapid building up of the city's marine section, extending for eight miles along the shore line from Point Loma to La Jolla, and the keystone of which is Mission Beach. This project, which has resulted in the creation of the newest San Diego pleasure resort and residential district, is ranked as one of the major developments of the last two years in Southern California. An amusement center, which it is declared eventually will be the finest in the country, adds materially to the already imposing array of recreational facilities afforded residents and visitors alike.

Development of the marine section followed the recent extension of the San Diego Electric Railway Company's lines to La Jolla. No other part of the metropolitan district has progressed so fast. Competent authorities are agreed that within five years this section will be compactly built up.

In common with many communities in Southern California, San Diego has progressed remarkably along a number of lines. The handicap of other years—comparative isolation because of geographical location—has been eliminated and today San Diego ranks in relative importance with San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle in the minds of people in other parts of the country. This favorable condition is due to a number of factors, chief of which are the impressive recognition given this city by the Federal Government in creating a great naval establishment on San Diego harbor; the additional transportation facilities afforded by the San Diego & Arizona Railway and its connections, the Southern Pacific and Rock Island lines; the additional number of steamship companies making San Diego a port of call; the national advertising and publicity campaigns conducted by the San Diego-California Club, and the aggressiveness of the Chamber of Commerce in embarking upon a definite plan for the acquisition of more industries.

San Diego harbor, one of the three great natural harbors on the Pacific coast of the United States and possessing practically unlimited commercial potentialities, is gradually being developed to meet the growing needs of the metropolitan district. Flanking the harbor are the extensive establishments of the United States government, the more important of these projects being the U. S. Marine Corps Base and the adjoining U. S. Naval Training Station; the Army and Navy Aviation Stations, and the destroyer base. In Balboa Park is the great naval hospital, which ultimately will be large enough to serve the entire needs of the Pacific Fleet.

The harbor also is ideal for yachting and other aquatic sports, which each year gain a wider following. Recreational facilities extend to the seven splendid beaches, the most distant being 24 miles; and to the mountains, where a score or more attractive inns and resorts may be reached in an hour or two over paved and well graded roads. The uplands of San Diego are gaining in popularity, and during the last year or two a number of mountain tracts, offering most charming cabin sites, have been placed on the market.

Keeping pace with the city, there has been a pronounced development of the so-called "back country." The good roads movement is being consistently carried forward, and thousands of acres of heretofore arid land are being brought under water through the completion of irrigation projects of far-reaching magnitude.

A network of superb highways spreads in all directions from San Diego. This city is the western terminus of several transcontinental automobile routes, which, converging at El Paso, Texas, continue to the Pacific Coast over practically the same route. These highways enable motorists to come to San Diego over the most southern routes, open throughout the year, from all points in the middle west and east.

No city in the United States has a better quality of water than that which citizens of San Diego draw from their faucets. Its source is high in the mountains, the peaks of which catch the rains and snows of the winter season and divert them into great reservoirs, where they are uncontaminated from sewage and refuse. There are four city-owned reservoirs, Morena, Barrett, Upper and Lower Otay, and three emergency sources of water supply.

San Diego is probably more for-supply, than any other Southern California city. Upwards of 35 billions of gallons of water were stored in the city reservoirs following the rains of the winter of 1924-25, and this supply, at the present and anticipated rate of consumption, is estimated to be sufficient for at least three years, even if the interim should be a "dry" period.

Climatic conditions are ideal. The normal annual temperature is 61 degrees. The average annual percentage of sunshine is 68, which is a very high average, and surpasses most cities of the United States.

Fourth city in population in California.

Ten banks: capital $3,425,000; deposits $62,610,650.

City of the second class.

Nearest port of entry for trade with Orient and through Panama Canal.

Nearer by railroad to Chicago and the East than any other Pacific port.

One hundred and five miles of street railway.

Average but nine days each year without some degree of sunshine.

Balboa Park, third largest in the United States.

Operates under modified form of city manager plan, with council of five members.

Extremely low infant mortality rate.

San Diego Bay discovered by Juan Rodriguez Cabrillo in 1542

First mission erected in 1769.

San Diego County contains 4,200 square miles.

POPULATION

There are 59,998 names in the San Diego section of the Directory, indicating a population of 134,995, being an increase of 2,425 since our last issue. This result is arrived at by multiplying the number of names by  $2\frac{1}{4}$  to allow for the women and children whose names do not appear in the Directory.

But the growth of the city or its advancement is not to be indicated by mere figures. The pages of this volume present evidence of general civic, social and commercial advancement, new business blocks, new dwelling houses and new factories, which with the quality and caliber of the people, meaning a progress even more important to a municipality than mere number of inhabitants.

DIRECTORY LIBRARIES

Copies of the latest editions of Directories of other cities throughout the United States and Canada are on file in the Directory Libraries maintained at the Merchants Association, 608 Electric Building, and at the Chamber of Commerce, Broadway and 2d, where they are accessible to the general public for single free reference

MUNICIPAL PUBLICITY

Advertising San Diego

An important function of the Directory is to set forth the characteristics and advantages of the city as a place of residence, as a business location, as an industrial site and as an educational center. The Directory acts as a mirror, reflecting all that is noteworthy in the city in the above respects. In order to spread this information regarding the city broadcast over the country the publishers place copies of this issue of the Directory in Directory Libraries which are maintained in all the larger cities of the country, where they are readily available for reference use by the public. There they serve as perpetual advertisements of San Diego, for business men the country over realize that the City Directory represents the community as it really is.

The publishers take this opportunity of thanking the citizens for valuable assistance rendered in the way of furnishing information concerning themselves and their friends for this Directory, and also the public-spirited and progressive business and professional men for support given in the way of patronage.

TRADE! You like to patronize those concerns who are in business to stay.

It's human to expect that such business establishments always stand back of the wares they sell.

The advertising in this Directory is suggestive of the stability and permanency of the advertisers.

Frauds, fakes, get-rich-quick and other schemers have little use for directory advertising. It lives too long.

The modern City Directory is a business institution. It occupies a place peculiarly its own. It is as necessary to the progress and development of a city generally as anything naturally would be which deals with such a fundamental as the citizens themselves.

If you are not advertising your business in the Directory, may we explain how and why it will pay you?

LIST OF NAMES*ANY BUSINESS—ANY LOCALITY*Accurate and Up-to-the-minute

We publish over 500 Directories—City, County, State, National and Trade. We furnish real live up-to-date lists of all trades and professions.

As directory publishers we frequently have available for lists the manuscript copy from which directories are being compiled, and thus you may secure information in advance of publication, a service that cannot be had elsewhere.

We have no trade lists—our information is taken from the latest sources, and above all things is accurate.

IT is a good thing, isn't it? You would not think of doing business without it.

But it is only seen by those who pass your way.

The City Directory is where many people look when they want to find you. You should make it easy for them to find you by putting in the directory such information as a buyer wants to know. Index your business under all classifications where a customer might look for you.

To be properly registered costs less than to be left out. Send for the City Directory Advertising Man and let him explain this to you in detail.

are the most satisfactory investments for persons fifty years of age or more, who have no occasion to bequeath an estate, the return being very much larger than from any other investment.

The income is sure (absolutely without risk), continuing so long as life lasts, and is TAX FREE. These contracts are issued without medical examination and guaranteed by THE PENN MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY of Philadelphia, organized in 1847, assets more than \$290,000,000.00. At age 65, your money will bring you 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ %; for older ages up to 20%. Ask for rates at your age. No obligation.

MANY TRIPS AT YOUR FINGER-TIPS —
SAVE MANY MILES, MINUTES and DOLLARS

There are over 300 of these directory libraries in the United States. They are installed and maintained by the Association of North American Directory Publishers as part of the service given to directory advertisers.

Think what this means to you in effort, time and money saved. You want to know the relationship of the signer of a letter to the firm he represents—the directory library has the answer; someone you vitally need to get in touch with in a distant city has moved; business addresses or firm names have changed—the directory library has the answer. Public officials have been replaced by new elections; location of real estate is desired—again the directory library holds the answer.

Of course you could write or phone for the data you desire, but maybe you don't know just who to approach—the directory library has the answer.

This service is free, for single reference, to the public.
